

What To Expect In Private Lessons

So much of what our student's learn in their individual lessons prepares them for the stage, the classroom, and beyond. Take a look at our specific areas of study to see if one is right for you.

Voice - Our private voice lessons help students to improve their vocal ability by: establishing a healthy vocal technique, improving breath support, focusing on resonance and amplification, improving posture, working on expression and interpretation of their music, and overcoming nervousness in performance.

Piano - Our private piano lessons equip students with musical tools by: focusing on music theory fundamentals (key signatures, time signatures, names of notes, rhythm, etc.), working toward dexterity and agility, improving posture, and learning various styles of piano repertoire and performance.

Dance - Our private dance lessons focus on enhancing each student's ability to: move freely, improve balance and flexibility, experience a variety of dance styles, learn what it means to be synchronous with music, and memorize choreography.

Acting - Our private acting lessons focus on a variety of areas including: close reading, interpretation, vocal clarity and articulation, expression, movement/staging, and confidence in their performance.
